Key verse - JEREMIAH 29:11

“For I know the plans I have for you,” declares the Lord, “plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future.”

SUMMARY

Jeremiah warns the people to stop committing adultery, using perverted worship practices, and turning away from God in general. Jeremiah’s persecution and suffering increases as God’s judgment approaches — he is actually in chains when the Babylonians take over Jerusalem.

God shows himself willing to spare and bless the nation if the people repent. Though this is a frequent emphasis, it is most graphically portrayed at the potter’s shop (18:1-11)

Jeremiah’s words drip with grief over the spiritual state of Judah. But Jeremiah’s writings are not without hope. Because of God’s faithful love for his people, God would bring the people back into right relationship.
